

JOIN OUR EXCLUSIVE NETWORK

The International Cleantech Network (ICN) is an exclusive network of cleantech clusters from the world's leading cleantech regions that aims to generate new business opportunities, enhance competitive advantages and create value for companies, knowledge institutions and local authorities across cluster regions. ICN was launched in 2009 by Copenhagen Capacity, one of the founders and main partners of CLEAN, Denmark's leading green cluster. ICN is formally registered as a legal entity in Denmark.

If you are interested to be part of our exclusive network, please answer the following questions as a preliminary step to qualify your organization and send your completed profile to secretariat@internationalcleantechnetwork.com

1. Is your organization a triple helix structure (companies, universities/research institutions and public authorities)?
Answer here
2. How many stakeholders are members of your cluster?
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Clean technologies developers</li><li>- Clean technologies users</li><li>- Investors</li></ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Related organizations</li><li>- Universities/research institutions</li><li>- Public authorities</li></ul>
3. Do you have any references that attest that your organization is a leading cluster?
Answer here
4. How would you define your focus on cleantech sectors?
Answer here
5. Is your base of stakeholders strongly internationally focused?
Answer here
6. Does your cluster have a clear international strategy?
Answer here
7. Is your organization willing to dedicate resources to contribute to the International Cleantech Network activities and projects?
Answer here	