

SAVE THE DATE: SMART CITIES NEW YORK CITY | MAY 2-6 2017

Join the International Cleantech Network (ICN) and the Nordic delegation "Meet the Nordics" in New York City!

Why join?

ICN and the Nordic delegation "Meet the Nordics" are pleased to invite you to the New York Smart Cities Expo taking place on 3-6 May 2017. In addition to having access to the first smart city expo held in New York City, the event will provide great opportunities to interact closely with Nordic cities and smart city companies. Participants will take part in networking events and meet American business partners, NYC officials, and Urban Future Lab - a NYC based incubator focusing on Smart Cities, Smart Grid and Clean Energy.

Why NYC Market?

The Smart Cities Expo, in combination with New York's climate change initiatives, makes this city a promising market to visit. The city of New York has set out to reduce its greenhouse gas emissions by 80 % in 2050. To reach this goal, New York City is investing in sustainable and smart solutions such as renewable energy, energy efficiency, smart and electric transportation, climate adaption, solid waste management.
